Illinois Has Greatest Man Hunt After 7 Bandits Hold Up Train

PORTER IS WOUNDED AND PISTOL BATTLE IS FOUGHT WITH THE ROBBERS WHO FLEE

Masked Men Crawl on Tender and Force Engineer to Stop Engine

VALUABLE LOOT MAY HAVE BEEN OBTAINED

Train Known to Have Carried Large Sums in Registered Mail

(International News Service)
PAXTON, Ill., Nov. 8.—One of the greatest man hunts ever held in Central Illinois is in progress today as the result of the daring hold-up of an Illinois Central passenger train near here.

Seven masked bandits who participated in the robbery are being sought by posse numbering more than 500 deputies, railroad detectives and citizen volunteers.

Early today the robbers had been traced on a road running west between Paxton and Laddow. This road would lead them to Bloomington and police of that city have been notified.

Chicago police also have been asked to watch roads leading into the city from the south. Arthur Moog, a porter, who thrust his head out of his car to see what the excitement was about drew the fire of the bandits. He has two bullet wounds in his body and may die.

The others who were wounded are not seriously hurt. Two of the robbers were passengers on the train, apparently boarding it at Paxton. As the train pulled out of here they donned masks and climbed over the tender to the engineer's cab. They drew guns and compelled the engineer to stop the train. As the train reached a bridge two miles south of Paxton the robbers forced the engineer to uncouple the engine, express and mail cars and drive them a short distance down the track. Then they walked to the door of the mail car and commanded the clerks to open it. Two clerks opened the door and were confronted by the bandits with drawn revolvers. The robbers then compelled the engineer to enter the car and throw out the mail sacks. The engineer switched off the lights in the car, but the bandits gathered a pile of waste from one of the journal boxes, placed it on the floor, ignited it and by this light tossed several sacks of registered mail to accomplices outside the car.

In the meantime Frank M. Williams, conductor, and several others of the train crew had crawled along the bridge from the detached passenger cars and with drawn revolvers rushed toward the spot where the glare from the burning mail car was lighting up the night.

As the bandits saw them they opened fire. Alarmed by the onslaught of the trainmen and the spread of the fire in the mail car, the bandits withdrew, jumped into a waiting automobile and escaped.

The train, known as the New Orleans Flyer, left Chicago at 6:15 last night. Postal officials today refused to estimate the amount of the loot. Valuable mail shipments have been frequent on that train and that leads to the belief that the loss will be large.

FOUND DEAD

(International News Service)
MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 8.—Believed to have been beating his way out of Mobile after escaping from the city prison where he was serving a term for violation of the prohibition law, Peter Martin, marine fireman, was killed by a Louisville and Nashville train on a bridge over the Mobile river Friday.

SENATOR WATSON CARRIES HIS FIGHT ON ARMY INTO THE CAMP FOR LEGION

Declares Weeks is Attempting to Enlist Aid of Soldier Organization

BITTER ATTACK MADE ON AMERICAN LEGION

Remarks Provoked by the Statement of the Secretary of War

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Senator Tom Watson, of Georgia, today carried his fight with the army into the camps of the American Legion. He charged that Secretary of War Weeks was attempting to enlist the aid of the Legion in an effort to whitewash his charges that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France.

"I expect them to rally to the Secretary of War's aid. The American Legion is chiefly organized by former officers of the A. E. F., who want to perpetuate the military spirit in the United States," Watson said. Watson's remarks were provoked by a statement of Secretary Weeks yesterday, appealing to Hanford McNeider, commander of the Legion, to lend its assistance toward obtaining all facts bearing upon the issue which had been raised by Senator Watson.

Watson today also demanded speedy action of the committee appointed by the Senate to investigate his charges. The committee met in executive session yesterday to organize and then adjourned until next week. "Why can't the committee go ahead now, I am ready?"

"It is to be expected that the American Legion would side with Secretary of War Weeks and against me. It has attacked me on a number of occasions because I have the courage to stand up for the private in the ranks and against the officers who bulldoze and maltreat him. During my campaign in Georgia last fall I made charges such as I am making now. The American Legion attacked me and broke up one of my meetings. "I have no fear of anything it can do. The great mass of former service men who did the real fighting and who belong in the ranks agree with me."

Additional documents Senator Watson has placed before the committee contain many charges of brutality and execution of men without trial. Henry Wells, writing from New York, alleges in a letter to Watson that an officer, who he thinks was named Grady and who was a member of the twenty-sixth division, shot a private for talking back.

Marion J. Wallis, 189 E. Broad street, Athens, Ga., has also written Watson a letter in which he alleges the shooting down in cold blood of a soldier at Camp Wheeler, Ga., by an officer named Crawford, of the 106th military police.

Smoke at Capital Without a Fire

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 8.—Much excitement was caused in Montgomery Monday afternoon when the fire department received a report that the state capitol was on fire. Smoke was coming from the basement in great volumes and all offices in the building were filled with smoke. All fire stations answered the call and firemen made a thorough search of the building, the basement and the belfry, but they found only a lot of smoke and no fire.

The mystery of the smoke remains. The firemen returned to their stations when they were unable to discover any blaze.

GENERAL REVISION OF RAILROAD RATES PROPOSED BY ROADS

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 8.—Proposals for a general revision of railroad rates in Alabama were submitted to the public service commission Monday by the Southern railway for all trunk lines in the state with the exception of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, and by the Louisville and Nashville railroad for itself. All short line railroads will present their proposals later.

Until a general checking up is made by engineers and rate experts of the public service commission the public cannot know what proposals have been made by the railroads. In order that this check may be made and the information may be placed in proper form for all persons who are interested, the commission after the proposals were made postponed further consideration of the case until December 12, on which date the representatives of the carriers will submit testimony in support of the revisions which they have proposed. After this testimony has been submitted representatives of the public and all persons opposing the proposals will be called for testimony. It is probable the testimony of the carriers will consume two or three weeks when the case is called again December 12.

ROAD ENTHUSIASTS MEET NOVEMBER 22

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 8.—Delegates from every county in Alabama will gather here on Tuesday, November 22nd, for the good roads convention which will be held at the Tutwiler Hotel on that date. The convention will be held for the purpose of inaugurating a campaign for the re-adoption of the good roads amendment which will be voted on by the people of Alabama, January 30th.

Plans for the convention are being worked out jointly by Fred J. Crampton, of Montgomery, president of the Alabama Highway Improvement Association, and Charles L. Harold, secretary-manager of the Birmingham Civic Association. Duly accredited delegates from each county are being forwarded invitations to be present at the one-day session and it is expected that several hundred good roads enthusiasts will respond.

As a preliminary step to the meeting, Lieutenant-Governor Nathan L. Miller, who presided over the state senate during the passage of the good roads bill through that body, addressed the civic forum of this city Monday on the proposed good roads amendment, outlining the main features of the bill as it passed the recent legislature and discussing its operation.

The program for the convention has not yet been worked out in detail but it is thought that there will be presented for adoption at that time, plans for the campaign in favor of the proposed amendment. Organization of the good roads advocates in every county in the state will be effected and active work for the bond issue will be begun.

LACY'S APPEAL FOR PAROLE, SET FOR A HEARING TUESDAY TALK OF THE STATE

Greater Interest Shown That at Any Time Since Defalcation

NO OTHERS CAN NOW BE CALLED TO ACCOUNT

Statement by Former Chief Clerk of Convict Department Rumored

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 8.—The Lacy's application for release on parole from the state penitentiary has become the talk of the state following the announcement that his formal appeal will be made to the state board of pardons sometime Tuesday. Greater interest has not been shown in the case since the former trusted chief clerk of the state convict department packed about one hundred thousand dollars in a pine box and disappeared one night early in 1913.

This interest now has resulted from the fact that Lacy has written his own story of the steal and has delivered it to Governor Kilby with the statement that the governor may use it as he sees fit. Governor Kilby has announced that it will not be made public until it has been submitted to the board of pardons and has not given any indication that it will be released even after the board has read it.

Governor Kilby left Sunday for a week's trip to New York and insofar as is known he left no instructions which provided for the disposition of Lacy's statement. The interest at this time is due to the fact that Lacy's lips have been sealed since the money was taken. No intimation has even been made by Lacy which would give any clue to his conspirators if he had any. He has borne the trouble alone. He received ten years in one case and six years in the other, but never told any one whether or not others were involved.

The story now can bring no charges against any other person, either civilly or criminally. Even if Lacy should tell a story which would incriminate others, the time for prosecutions has passed. The statute of limitations has run against any indictments and against any civil suits for the recovery of the money. Lacy's statement can do no more than remove a portion of the load which his conscience has carried since he packed up the money in his pine box and left the capitol.

Many surprises are expected if Lacy's statement is made public. The gossip is that Lacy will incriminate others, but his story will be different from that which the public has expected. One thing is certain—Lacy has included in his statement a declaration that his previous statement issued shortly after he surrendered regarding Governor Emmett O'Neal was false and that he made the statement at the time through anger with the governor. At the time the statement was made Governor O'Neal branded it as false from beginning to end and rented a Montgomery theatre for an address in which he denounced the editor of the newspaper which carried the story.

During all the discussion about Lacy's plea for a parole there has been no intimation from any person interested in his appeal that the former state employee would be willing to surrender any portion of the state's money or would be willing to tell where the money may be found at this time. Unless plans are changed at the law.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Henry Ford today advised Secretary of War Weeks that he will come to Washington on November 18 to confer on the proposals which Ford has made to take over the government nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals.

Secretary Weeks announced today that he will confer with Ford at four o'clock on the afternoon of the eighteenth. At that time it is expected that some definite agreement will be reached relative to Ford's offer and that Secretary Weeks will shortly afterwards make his recommendation to congress.

The announcement today by the Secretary of War was received as an indication that the long pending matter of the future of Muscle Shoals is now on the way to a definite conclusion. The Secretary stated that the Ford offer is the only one that he is now considering and the conference on November 18 should result in a definite decision upon this proposal, thus closing this matter which is of such vital concern to a large section of the country.

Ford and his engineers have shown a disposition to meet the government half way in matters at issue and some of the objections which the government raised to the original Ford proposals have already been wiped out.

Discrepancies in estimates of the cost of completion of the Muscle Shoals dam have been practically settled and it is believed here that the Ford-Weeks conference will result in the wiping out of other minor differences.

Although Secretary Weeks was still inclined not to make any predictions as to the course he is likely to follow, it is generally believed here that he will recommend to congress that he be authorized to accept the Ford proposition.

POSTMASTER AND LITTLE SON FORCED TO FLEE FROM FIRE

At an early hour this morning the home of T. H. Alexander, on Johnston street, caught fire supposedly from an incubator, causing much damage to the upper floor and destroying a lot of personal property and furnishings. Mr. Alexander was awakened by dense smoke and taking his little boy, David Almon, in his arms, made his way with great difficulty to the lower floor and street, escaping to safety unhurt. Mrs. Alexander, in the absence of her parents, Solicitor and Mrs. D. C. Almon, from their home on Gordon Drive, had gone there to stay for the night with a sister who was ill, and was not apprized of the fire until the firemen, after a gallant fight, had succeeded in saving the home.

The loss was partially covered by insurance. Mr. Alexander paid a high tribute to the fire department for its good work. "The department is as good as you will find anywhere and is a wonder in action," he said.

last moment, John S. Tilley, attorney for Lacy, expects to submit Lacy's formal application for release on parole to the board of pardons at the November term which will begin Tuesday. Lacy has already advertised the application as required by law.

WAR CHIEF ADVISED OF PROPOSED VISIT

Expected That a Definite Agreement Will Be Reached at the Conference, Early Action Seems Likely

C. L. U. HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING

The Central Labor Union met in regular session last night, with T. J. Martin presiding. The usual routine business was transacted with a good attendance. Based on current reports to the effect that the Republican administration at Washington was seeking to replace the department of labor with a similar department, it was directed that the local body protest against such action, and J. E. Blair, H. C. Hutchison and W. G. Gentry were appointed as a committee to convey such protest to the proper authorities at Washington.

Reports on progress made for the celebration of Armistice Day were heard, and the steps thus far taken were endorsed.

Railroad Officers Very Optimistic

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 8.—Optimistic statements on business conditions were made in Montgomery today by C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central railroad, and W. A. Winburn, president of the Central of Georgia railroad, who arrived with other railroad officials for an inspection of railroad property in Alabama.

Mr. Markham declared that business conditions are brighter than they have been for many months. He said it was regrettable that there should be any discussion now of lower railroad rates because agitation causes many shippers to hold off business, when in fact the narrow margin between earnings and expenditures does not warrant any general reduction in rates at this time.

The railroad officials will visit Birmingham where they will make a general inspection of industries especially railroads.

Students Speak for the Bond Issue

An unusual feature of the campaign being conducted here in behalf of the $200,000 school bond issue and three mill tax was the appearance of four students of the Albany high school as four minute speakers at churches here Sunday. The students making addresses in behalf of the schools were: Misses Mary Collier and Beatrice Lee, Guy Thompson and Carl Thomas. Miss Collier spoke at the Central Methodist church; Miss Lee at the First Baptist; Mr. Thompson at the Westminster Presbyterian, and Mr. Thomas at the Central Baptist.

KIWANIS MINSTREL TO HANG UP RECORD

The Kiwanis minstrel program this year will be a record breaker in amateur theatricals, it was indicated by the large attendance and enthusiasm manifested Monday night when a large crowd responded to the call for volunteers. A meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. and the work of picking the cast started. Earnest Young will direct the first part this year, it was announced today.

Particular attention will be paid to the musical numbers and the cast will include many of the best voices in the Twin Cities. Proceeds from the entertainment will be used for charity.

To Establish Church Hi School

HACKLEBURG, Ala., Nov. 8.—Rev. G. F. Ponder, pastor of the Methodist church here for the past two years, is making preparations to seek new territory. He will perhaps get his appointment from the annual conference in Birmingham tomorrow. He is being transferred through his own efforts that of being instrumental in bringing here a church high school. Mr. Ponder has given much consideration to the new location, having made a special effort to impress upon the leaders of the Methodist churches in this district the spacious and needful territory.

At the district conference that met at Double Springs last summer Rev. Guthrie, presiding elder of the Haleyville district, showed much interest in the plans of Rev. Ponder and a number of propositions were submitted by various towns in the district, but the people of this community, encouraged by a strong pastor, offered 80 acres of land that Hackleburg might obtain this school.

Rev. Dr. Alverson, who is principal of the high school, will relieve Rev. Ponder as pastor.—Birmingham News

Hounds Fail to Pick Up a Trail

Bloodhounds last night were unable to pick up a trace of the robbers who entered the store of Joseph Shia, 622 West Vine street, during the absence of the proprietor yesterday and escaped with $115 in cash. Shia operates a grocery store. He closed the store while he went out on business and returned to find his cash drawer rifled. The burglars are said to have entered through a rear door. Bloodhounds were sent here from Chattanooga, but were unable to locate the culprits.

THE NAVAL PROBLEM

According to a Washington dispatch, the American delegation to the conference called by President Harding will be authorized to present a well considered and definite plan for the reduction of naval armaments at one of the early sessions. The details of the proposal cannot, of course, be indicated in advance, and speculation would be futile. Any limitation for general acceptance must be based upon the defensive requirements of each country represented at the conference, and on that point its representatives will be heard. It should be clear that the interests of the British Empire in all parts of the world, and particularly the ever-present need of importing food supplies for the mother country, call for the protection of a navy of considerable strength. It is just as plain that the United States, with its extensive continental coast line, its stake in the Panama Canal, and its Asiatic possessions, will need a strong fleet. It must always be borne in mind that there is no assurance of the millennium yet.

Japan has her ideas about the defense of her own waters and territory, also of the protection of her interests on the Asiatic mainland, and they will be presented at the conference. It is to be expected that she will ask for a modern fleet and resist what may be termed drastic limitation. France and Italy will have their own plans of defense. France also has Asiatic possessions. But those Powers have never desired navies so large that their land forces would have to be greatly reduced. Their important frontiers are, for political reasons, land frontiers.

So far as the United States and Great Britain are concerned as great naval Powers there should be no difficulty about an understanding between them that the equality in naval strength acceptable to the British Empire, as Baron Lee, First Lord of the Admiralty, has stated, and as desired by Secretary Denby for the United States, should obtain. There would still be the difficult question of the proportionate naval strength that would satisfy Japan. It may be assumed that it would depend upon the solution of the pressing problems that inhere in the situation in the Far East.—New York Times.

"DARDANELLA" ALL SET FOR BIG PERFORMANCE TONIGHT
One of the long anticipated theatrical events of the season will materialize tonight at the Princess when the celebrated musical comedy "Dardanelle" will give an exhibition.

"Dardanelle" is described as a tornado of jazzing—a whirlwind of mirth and a cyclone of song. All the big features which made the big show so popular during its metropolitan engagement have been retained—the same gorgeous girls, a small army of them; the same cast of singers, dancers and funmakers and the identical scenic investiture.

A number of solo musicians is carried by the "Dardanelle" management to augment the local orchestra, thereby insuring a perfect rendition of the international hits. It is promised that Addison Evans, composer of the "Dardanelle" score may direct tonight. Mr. Evans is visiting the organization at the present time, adding a new musical number which, by the way, will be used for the first time tonight.

There is not a serious moment in Dardanelle. A giggle, a laugh or a scream every minute is the promise. Indications point to the same crowded house here as has greeted the big show every night since leaving New York.

Then, by chance, his feminine sponsor discovers that he possesses a genius for the designing of gowns. How this gift is used by little Zoe, the part enacted by Miss Dana, to bring success to the pair, is a story that permits the gifted Viola to use all of her unquestioned ability as a delineator of girlish roles.

Are you stepping on the brake or the accelerator?

The food you eat does make a difference.

Heavy, starchy foods often do slow down body and mind—often steal the energy that belongs to the day's work. Grape-Nuts is a go-ahead food. It contains the perfected nourishment of Nature's best grains. It includes all those elements needed to nourish body and brain. It is easy to digest. It gives energy without taking energy.

How about your breakfast or lunch—does it give, or take?

Grape-Nuts is sweet, crisp, delightful to the taste, and is an ideal source of power for a busy and difficult day.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

One of the most attractive of the pre-nuptial events planned for Miss Lorene Day, whose marriage to Dr. R. Renfro Duke, of Tampa, Florida, occurred the latter part of October, was in the form of a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. Chester Lee, when Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Fred Sherrill were joint hostesses.

The colors of yellow and green were used in the decorations of the reception rooms. Branches of autumn leaves and vines were artistically combined with baskets and vases of roses and cosmos to adorn each room. Numbers of bright colored balloons and paper ribbons were blown to and fro by the electric fans. The rooms were lighted by many burning tapers held in the silver candelabra and in the single candle stick.

The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mesdames W. A. Boger, J. L. Day, T. E. Crittenden, E. Sample and Miss Eloise Riddle. After being received the guests were served frappe by Misses Ruth Sharpley and Wilma Kent. Rook was a diversion of the afternoon. At the conclusion of the game the guests were assembled in the central reception room at the end of which was displayed a beautiful tableau. Drawn curtains revealed a fairy-like bower arranged of green branches and soft lights before a large mirror. Suspended midway was a large green balloon, showering gifts. Nell Sample, a tiny cousin of the bride, with lustrous wings of satin and a golden bow and quiver, posed charmingly as cupid. Pierced by cupid's dart, the honoree was led to a seat in the bower where she was presented with the many and useful gifts. Later an ice course featuring the chosen colors was served.

Miss Day was lovely in a black gown of canton crepe and Spanish lace.

The guest list of this occasion included, besides the honoree: Mesdames W. A. Bryan, J. L. Day, T. E. Crittenden, E. Sample, E. H. Sharpley, Leonard Hefflin, F. C. Barcliff, Carrie Lee, Robert Sobatka, P. W. Barcliff, Willis Woodall, A. Polytinsky, D. W. Day, J. A. Hartselle, Geo. Freidkin, H. L. Burleson, A. H. Masterson, A. Stephenson, R. G. Sherrill, A. E. Jackson, J. B. Orr, J. L. Rountree, W. H. Weddie, G. G. Glover, Adia Sample, Jim Cain, J. H. Riddle, S. F. Orr, M. Patillo, C. L. Orr, Misses Ruby Boger, Grace Sobatka, Annie Johnson, Eloise Riddle, Mary Paul Barcliff, Ruby and Nell Sample, Carolyn Sharpley and Frances Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hall who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Daniell for the past six weeks, left Monday for Montgomery, where they will visit Mrs. Richard T. Rives for a brief stay before they depart for their home in Lakeland, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were accompanied by Mrs. J. Robert Daniell and Mrs. Harry Carpenter as far as Montgomery.

Mrs. C. A. Worthington is in Birmingham this week.

Mrs. Ollie McLemore, of Moulton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Stevens.

The many friends of Miss Mattie Banks will be glad to know she is convalescing after an illness of some days.

Mrs. S. Summer, who has been seriously ill for several months, is slowly improving.

Mrs. W. B. Robertson is in Nashville visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Gordon McDuff is a Nashville visitor this week.

Mrs. W. F. Boswell and sister, Miss Kate Lyle, have returned from a visit to Birmingham.

Mrs. G. W. Green will leave this week for a visit to relatives in Andalusia, Pensacola and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dodd entertained a few friends Monday evening at their home in the Enclum Flat. Games and music were features of the evening and at the usual hour dainty refreshments were served. All voted Mrs. Dodd a most charming hostess.

MEETING OF SOCIETY

Monday afternoon, Nov. 7th, Mesdames E. L. Thomas and Jessie Mainard jointly entertained the Central Methodist Society. Subject for study at this meeting, Korea was ably conducted by Mrs. Owens, who had as her capable assistants, Mesdames Cobb, Sam Blackwell and McDougal. Mrs. Proctor lead the prayer when the society prayed especially for Mr. W. R. Smith, whose condition of health is poor, and for others who are on the sick list.

Mrs. Proctor, the president, took the chair, and a most enthusiastic business session followed. Plans for the bazaar for the sixteenth were completed. It was decided not to hold a market in connection with the bazaar, but for suitable articles donated toward same to be used in the tea room. Mrs. J. H. Donnell, chairman of the tea room committee, made a talk explaining how it is to be conducted. Mrs. Cobb, chairman of the candy booth, Mrs. Mayes, chairman of the baby department, Mrs. Robertson of the fancy work department, Mrs. A. S. Blackwell, of the apron and magazines booth, Mrs. McDougal of the handkerchief booth, and Mrs. L. P. Troup of the Novelty department, all made reports on the number of articles they have promised and donated. It was decided that all articles are to be brought or sent on Tuesday, Nov. 15, to the Malone building where the bazaar is to be held. The society will meet next Monday at this building to begin work, the Mission Study having been postponed until the next regular day. At the conclusion of the business session, Miss Susie Mainard assisted the hostesses in serving tempting afternoon refreshments.

NEWS OF HARTSELLE

HARTSELLE, Nov. 7.—Gen. Azgnetian, representing the Near East Relief in this county, delivered an address at the Methodist church Sunday night to a large and appreciative audience. He told in heart-rending language the plight of the Armenian people, and steps were taken locally to send some measure of relief. Committees were appointed to look after the matter in a local way, and judging from the sentiment displayed there will be no trouble in getting a large donation for this appealing cause.

Rev. L. A. Holmes, pastor of the Methodist church, preached his last sermon Sunday to his congregation that he has served for the past conference year, unless he should be sent back to this charge. Since coming here, Rev. Holmes has made many friends and is regarded by all, regardless of religious faith, as an earnest Christian worker and gentleman in all that the term implies. He will take a good report to conference with him.

KENTUCKY POLLS SCENE OF BATTLE

(International News Service) BREATHITT, Ky., Nov. 8.—A pitched battle, resulting in the death of six and the serious wounding of 5 others occurred on Troublesome creek today, only a short time after the polls were opened. The battle was the result of differences of opinion over candidates. The battle raged with great intensity for about half an hour. Those not directly engaged in the fray sought cover.

Bride of Camera Artist Beautiful

NEW YORK—Lajaren A. Hiller, who has been called the "Whistler of the Camera" because of the remarkable effects he has been able to get in photographic portraiture, was married to Miss Sara Anita Plummer, who is twenty-four, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cummings Plummer, of Wheeling, W. Va. For the last three years she has been secretary to Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, who, by the way, warmly seconded Mr. Hiller's estimate of his wife's pulchritude. It was in Mr. Gibson's studio that Mr. Hiller first met Miss Cummings, and the acquaintanceship soon ripened into love.

Linars Have Great Power Plants. So general is the use of electricity on a big ocean steamship that its generating station is of a size equal to that designed for the electrical requirements of a city of 100,000 inhabitants.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Grippe

Any physician or druggist will tell you that the first step in the treatment of a cold, cough, sore throat, influenza or grippe should invariably be a brisk calomel purgative, preferably the nameless calomel tablet called Calotabs. This alone is often sufficient to break up a severe cold or night, or cut short an attack of grippe and possibly prevent pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasures or work. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system is purified and refreshed. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages; price ten cents for the vest pocket size; thirty-five cents for a large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists everywhere. Price refunded if you are not delighted.—adv.
